Missouri Pacific Appoints New Assistant General Passenger Agent.

James Edgar Davenport, who has been division passenger agent of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in St. Louis since 1901, has been appointed assistant general passenger agent at St. Louis of the Missouri Pacific Iron Mountain, effective February 1.

Mr. Davenport is one of the best-known passenger men in the country. He is a native of Salem, Ill., where he began his career as a telegraph operator for the old Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, now known as the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern. Later he was agent for that company at Lebanon, Ill., and then came to St. Louis as city passenger and ticket agent for the Cotton Belt. Next he was made district passenger agent for the Clover Leaf, which position he resigned to accept one as traveling passenger agent for the Choctaw Line at Cincinnati. He resigned to become division passenger agent of the Louisville & Nashville at St. Louis.

Mr. Davenport has a large circle of acquaintances both in St. Louis and other sections of the United States and is extremely popular with railroad men and the traveling public.

Treatment Of Oats Smut

S. M. Jordan, manager of the Pettis County Bureau of Agriculture, has the following to say of the treatment of oats for smut:

By making an actual count or test in a field of oats the past season the average of smut heads was more than ten per cent.

This field was about 30 acres and averaged about 30 bushels of oats per acre. Then if 30 bushels represented 90 per cent of what the yield would have been had there been no smut, the yield would have been 55 1/2 bushels, or a total of 166 1/2 bushels more had there been no smut. At 40 cents a bushel the field would have been worth $66.60 more, to say nothing of some danger in feeding smutty grain.

This seed costs the grower $1.20 a bushel, and had the seed been treated for smut the loss could have been avoided.

The cost for treating the seed would have been about 40 cents, and only a little work.

The treatment is as follows:

Put one pint of formalin to 50 gallons of water.

Two or three days before seeding put the oats in a heap on a tight board or better, a concrete floor. Sprinkle the solution over the oats, and scoop them over and over until all the grains have been moistened by the solution, then spread them out to dry and as soon as dry enough, they may be sown.

If the smutty grain has been in the drill box, the box should be disinfected with the solution.

Smut is a fungus disease and is more or less poisonous to stock.

Formalin is not dangerous, but kills the fungus, but as soon as the grain is entirely dry it can be fed without danger.

Typhoid Vaccination.

The effectiveness of vaccination against typhoid fever is shown in the health records of the United States Navy for the first ten months of 1912. Enlistment in the Navy is 62,000 men. Ordinarily about 200 cases of typhoid fever, resulting in from 15 to 20 deaths, occurred each year. In 1911 compulsory vaccination against typhoid was adopted. During the first ten months of 1912 one mild, non-fatal case of typhoid fever developed in the navy. It pays to know and use the modern discoveries in medicine.

Contentment.

Midst foreign lands, on errant feet,
Tis mine at will to roam—
But his, the old familiar street
And shining lights of home,
I've met full many a potentate
In kingdoms far and wild—
But his, to see at door or gate
His smiling wife and child.

Strange people have I moved among,
Who in strange language spoke—
But his, to know the face and tongue
Of kindly neighbor folk!

Adventures mine, 'neath every sun,
And all the pride thereof—
But his, each day's work nobly done,
And eves of peace and love!

The wanderer feels on sweet unrest,
His sails are never furled—
But oh, to be that one, thrice blest,
Who makes of home his world!

LYNNLAND.

Mrs. CLYDE WAGNER.

Friends here were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Anthony Shreck at his home in Carthage. Among the older residents of this locality Mr. Shreck was well known as he lived here for many years. He owns the farm where Wm. Huffman resides and his family grew to manhood and womanhood here. His death was due to heart trouble and he had been in unusually good health all winter, making frequent visits to his farm. Besides his wife he leaves seven living children to mourn his loss. They are Mrs. Ida Stafford, Mrs. Newt Woodmansee, Mrs. Russell Wheeler, Mrs. Florence Vaughn, Mrs. Ellen Selby and George and David Shreck. A number of acquaintances are attending the funeral which will take place at Salem today (Tuesday) at one o'clock when the remains will be laid to rest in the family lot.

W. A. Milton has purchased a new horse and buggy.

Several friends helped Theo. Lawson celebrate his birthday anniversary last Wednesday evening by surprising him. Refreshments were served.

The young people attended a party at the home of Miss Frona Talley Tuesday evening.

Homelessness Spills Photographs. Aunt Maria thought, and so did her relatives in the big city, that the photographer was unprofessionally discourteous. For three consecutive days he refused to take Aunt Maria's photograph. On the fourth day he said why.

"In justice to her," he said, "I do not want to take her pictures now. She is too homesick. Most of the town people want to be photographed while in the city. If they are longing for home I put them off with one excuse or another until the homesickness wears off."

"If you want your aunt's picture to turn out well, just bust up some one from her home town who happens to be visiting here at present and bring him here so she will meet him unexpectedly. The meeting will put spirit and animation into her face, and whether she nor I will be disappointed with the photograph."

Tested.

"Eighty dollars for a set of tires is pretty stiff," said Jipson. "Haven't you got anything cheaper?"

"Sure," said the affable salesman. "I have a set here you can have for ten dollars."

"Ten, eh?" said Jipson. "That's good and cheap. How about 'em—are they good for anything? Ever had 'em tested?"

"I should say so," said the salesman. "They've traveled over 30,000 miles already."—Harper's Weekly.

Office Hours.

Living in a very friendly neighborhood, I found that often during the week I was delayed in my work by a "back-door" visit or a lengthy telephone call. Accordingly I proposed to several that we adopt "office hours" for our work and permit no interruption during those hours, writes a contributor to Harper's Bazar. The neighbors saw the wisdom of this plan and we have followed it with very gratifying economy of strength and time.

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complications affecting the general health.

Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis, and other severe diseases are traceable to prolonged clogging of the bowels. Regarding the effects of constipation, C. E. Ayers, 6 Sabin St., Montpelier, Vt., says:

"I was afflicted with constipation and biliousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become weak and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case."

Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper curative measures until serious illness often results. The advice of all physicians is, "Keep your bowels clean," and it's good advice.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory, your money is returned.
